

THE UNIVERSITY OF SCRANTON
COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES
WOMEN'S & GENDER STUDIES

About the Program

The women's and gender studies program provides an integrated, interdisciplinary, intersectional approach to understanding the social and cultural constructions of gender that shape the experiences of women and men. Women's and gender studies courses in the humanities, social sciences and health professions promote critical thinking, intellectual growth and self-awareness.

Outcomes & Opportunities

- Students who major or concentrate in women's and gender studies are especially well positioned to work in education, policy institutions, development, media, social work, and the private sector.
- Graduates have attended graduate programs in women's and gender studies, public policy, law, education, counseling, philosophy, public health, health administration, social work and medicine at institutions such as: Columbia University, George Washington University, The University of Pennsylvania, Temple University, American University and Vanderbilt University.
- Graduates of the program are employed at many prestigious public and private organizations, including: AmeriCorps, Random House Publishers, Morgan Stanley, Bronx District Attorney's Office, Philadelphia District Attorney's Office, New York State Division of Human Rights and Institute for Women's Policy Research in Washington, D.C.

¹The selection of a First Year Seminar is likely to fulfill requirements both for the First Year Seminar and a General Education Requirement. Thus, the First Year Seminar will not add to the total credits for the semester. Talk with your advisor if you have any questions.

*An approved 3-credit EP Foundation Course may be substituted for COMM 100 and C/IL 102/102L-C/IL 104. In this case, the total needed for graduation in this major may be reduced. Consult with your advisor if you have questions.
