

Frequently Asked Questions for Transfer Students

Who is a transfer student?

Any student who has enrolled in college courses after high school graduation, regardless of whether credit is earned or not, is considered a transfer student.

How do I apply for transfer admission?

Transfer students can apply online for free. Visit scranton.edu/transferapply for application options and requirements.

What are your preferred application deadlines?

Fall semester: August 1

Spring semester: December 15

Applications received after the preferred dates are considered on a space-available basis.

What are your application requirements?

- Online application (scranton.edu/transferapply)
- Personal statement
- If under 36 college credits:

What factors are considered in the Admissions decision?

Applicants are considered for acceptance on a case-by-case basis and are reviewed on a variety of criteria, including:

- If under 36 college credits:
- Cumulative high school GPA
 - SAT Math and Critical Reading scores
 - Cumulative college GPA

- If over 36 college credits:
- Cumulative college GPA

For all applicants:

- Extracurricular activities
- Community service
- Leadership experience
- Letter of recommendation
- Personal statement

Notification of the admissions decision is made on a rolling basis.

What if I don't meet the acceptance criteria?

Transfer students who do not meet all criteria for regular admission, but show reasonable promise of success, may be considered for probationary acceptance. Probationary status limits the number of credits in the first semester to no more than 14. This status may be removed after completion of one semester with the required GPA as stated within the individual program of study.

How do I know if my credits will transfer?

Applicants are required to submit college transcripts for all post-secondary institutions attended. Upon receipt, an individual course evaluation will be completed. Only courses with a grade of C or better will be reviewed. Applicants will receive a letter with course-by-course equivalency and course placement within the chosen program of study.

What is the maximum amount of credits that I can transfer?

Transfer students need to complete a minimum of 63 credits at The University of Scranton in order to obtain a bachelor's

How do I apply for Financial Aid?

Students who wish to apply for need-based financial aid should file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at fafsa.gov by April 15 for the following fall semester. Spring term entries need to update their FAFSA to include The University of Scranton (code 003384) on the college section. For questions regarding the transfer of specific financial aid awards, please contact the Financial Aid Office at: (570) 941-7701 or finaid@scranton.edu

How do I get in touch with a coach?

All of our coaches have phone numbers and email addresses listed online. Visit: athletics.scranton.edu

Once accepted, how do I register for courses?

After you are offered acceptance and submit your confirmation deposit, your file will be forwarded to the advising center of your major. An advisor will register you for courses based on your transfer credit evaluation. You will meet with an advisor during Orientation to review the schedule and make any necessary changes.

Do you require an interview?

While an interview is not required, prospective students may schedule a personal appointment with the transfer counselor. The personal appointment is non-evaluative and is for students and parents who may have questions about the University or who wish to discuss a specific situation with regard to admission.

The appointment can be made in combination with a tour. For available dates and times, contact the Office of Admissions at 1-888-SCRANTON.

Do I have to live on campus?

Freshman and sophomore students not living at home with a parent or relative in Northeast PA are required to live in an on-campus residence hall.

Can I have a car on campus?

All commuter students, along with junior and senior resident students, may have a car on campus. Freshman and sophomore resident students are not eligible for on-campus parking.

Is housing available for transfer students?
